ANNUAL REPORT 2012

Washington County
Community Foundation

FOR GOOD. FOR EVER. FOR WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Dear Friends,

I recently read something on the Internet (Where would we be without the Internet?) about growing older. The gist of it was that once you reach a certain age you quit lying about your age and start bragging about it. For most folks the time for that is many decades down the road, but for the Washington County Community Foundation the time to brag is now. And, we have much to brag about. My Dad always says, "Hindsight is always 20/20." So, let's look back with the advantage of 20/20 hindsight.

First, the numbers. Since 1993, the foundation has distributed over $3.2 million through grants and scholarships to our community from our endowment and has secured an additional $6.9 million from outside sources for our county, making our total impact in Washington County over $10 million. Pretty amazing, especially when you think that in the early days most folks doubted that we would ever be able to endow a million dollars. Really, did ANYONE see this coming?

Next, the stories. Too many to tell them all. But, suffice it to say that we have fed hungry people, educated our youth, taught adults to read, created Youth First, built the Community Learning Center, supported local artists, mentored our youth, supported our senior citizens, enhanced safety and security in our county, preserved our history and heritage, and a myriad of other projects. Visit our website, www.wccf.biz, to read more of our stories and watch our videos.

Finally, our donors. None of this would have been possible without you, our donor. Thank you for your continued support throughout the last two decades. From a fledgling organization to a thriving community leader, you have been with us every step of the way. Our existence, and by extension the impact we have had, is because of you. Thank you for being a visionary and investing in Washington County through our Foundation.

Recently our Board of Directors coined a new phrase "Leaving a legacy is like planting a tree that will provide shade for future generations" during a board meeting. This represents the vision of our board and all of our donors. This phrase has become a part of our mural in our conference room which honors our Morris Society members. Do you have a vision for Washington County? How do you want future generations to look back at your time on earth? If you would like to create an enduring legacy that will last forever, let me help you. Together, we can create a fund that will support the causes you care about most. And, in 100 years, people will know your vision for our community, because it will be permanently preserved through the Foundation.

2012 ACCOMPLISHMENTS. . . Here is how we "happened to things."

Grantmaking

We paid out over $525,000.00 in grants in 2012.

Disaster Recovery

The March 2nd tornado changed our community and our priorities. Washington County Community Foundation staff dedicated an incredible number of hours to disaster recovery. Through their efforts, Washington County was able to join the Southern Indiana Community Organizations Active in Disaster which led to the creation of the March2Recovery organization. This is a three county coalition that is coordinating the recovery efforts for Clark, Jefferson and Washington counties. As of 12/31/12 Washington County Community Foundation had awarded over $110,000.00 in recovery assistance. Additionally, because of our association with March2Recovery, Washington County tornado survivors received over $361,000.00 in additional financial assistance.

Next BIG

Although still in the initial planning stages, we have identified our next Board Initiated Grant (BIG). Over the coming months we will continue to refine our strategies and develop a plan to improve the educational attainment levels of our community.

Human Resources

As of 1/1/12, Lindsey Wade-Swift became the Financial/Program Manager for the Foundation. Also, we welcomed two new board members: Karen Davis and Reta Haub.

Youth Development Movement

After nurturing Youth First for six years, we worked with the YMCA leaders to transfer the organization under their umbrella. Like any proud parent, this was an emotional time, but a necessary step for the growth of Youth First and in keeping with our original plan.

Washington County Youth Foundation

The Youth Foundation continues to support the Happily Ever After Project. They are giving generously of their time and talent and they are also contributing financially to support the program. This initiative has two phases. Phase 1 was launched in November of 2010, with high school students reading to elementary students in order to promote the love of reading and reading comprehension skills. Other community service activities for the Youth Foundation include: Taste of Salem, Christmas Assistance, Minis for Pennies fundraiser and Community Learning Center clean-up.

Education

We hosted the HBO news series, "The Weight of the Nation" in the Community Learning Center. Attendance was light, but we received good coverage in the newspaper. These videos are available to groups.

Women's Giving Circle

Our Women's Giving Circle held its second annual tea in 2012. It was a huge success. There were over 100 ladies in attendance and we granted out over $7,300.00 to five organizations.

Website

Our website now hosts almost 50 different videos. These videos were developed by interns and Washington County Community Foundation staff (mostly interns!). We have been recognized for our marketing efforts by the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs and the Center for Rural Entrepreneurship.

Social Media

We continue our presence in the world of Social Media through our Facebook page. Currently, we have 629 friends. Friend us, if you haven't already, to stay up to date with all of our activities.

Investment Manager

We successfully converted to a new investment manager, 5/3 Bank, the first quarter of 2012.

Brittney Scifres helps to set up for the 2012 Women's Giving Circle Tea.

“It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.”

Albert Einstein

Albert Einstein knew the value of a great teacher. He had good teachers and bad. Thankfully, he found creative mentors to spark his natural curiosity. So, in spite of dropping out, he became one of history’s greatest theorists.

The enduring spirit of a teacher to create change through our youth is inspiring. That is why our teacher grant program is so important. We have seen that giving a creative teacher a modest sum of money can have a huge impact on educational outcomes. Helping our students to succeed will build not only their generation, but future generations. Our grants are issued from two funds:

 The D. Jack Mahuron Education Fund

 The Salem Community Schools Giving Tree Fund

Salem Community Schools Giving Tree Funds are supported by teachers and staff through a payroll deduction program at Salem Community Schools. Both of these grant programs are designed to promote innovative classroom projects and increase each student’s individual abilities.

The special projects that have been supported include activities from learning through music and learning to snorkel.

EDUCATIONAL SUPPORT

More than $3,000 was given/awarded to county schools in 2012 to support classroom teacher projects and build our students’ abilities.

John Rockefeller

Even though our donors are not as financially well off as John Rockefeller, they are like-minded. Our donors establish funds for many reasons.... But all consider it a privilege to be able to use the foundation as their philanthropy vehicle. Now, they can support their favorite nonprofit forever.

MANY OF OUR DONORS ASK,

“What will people need in 50 or 100 years and what can I do for them?”

Tough question, easy answer. Start a Touch Tomorrow Fund. This type of fund will be flexible to meet the present and future needs of our county.... Even those we can’t foresee.

The Washington County Community Foundation held four competitive grant cycles in 2012 (Women’s Giving Circle, Youth Foundation, and two general cycles.) These grant cycles are funded through the Foundation’s Touch Tomorrow funds, the Women’s Fund and the Paul Ogle/ Ed Baugh Youth Philanthropy Fund.

"I don't think you ever stop giving. I really don't. I think it's an on-going process. And it's not just about being able to write a check. It's being able to touch somebody's life."

Oprah Winfrey

Never stop giving. That is the vision of the Morris Society members. They gave while living and also have arranged for a gift to our community through the Foundation in their estate plan. They will touch lives long after they are gone. They can't see the future of Washington County, but they know they will be a part of it.

Bob and Clarice Morris had a vision. They gave the Washington County Community Foundation its first planned gift in 1995 through a Charitable Remainder Trust. For this gift, they received a tax deduction and income for life. However, as Bob often stated, the best part is that the organizations and causes that they really cared about will receive a gift from them forever.

Do you have a vision for our community?

"I want to put a ding in the universe."

Steve Jobs

Our Washington County Youth Foundation is putting a ding in the universe, one book... one child at a time.

Through the Happily ever after project our high school students are reaching out to the second and third graders in our county and instilling a love of reading in their life.

At the beginning of the 2011-2012 school year, we had over 600 students participating in the Happily ever after project. The Happily ever after project is spearheaded by the Washington County Youth Foundation, but would not be possible if it weren't for additional partnerships in the schools. It has two phases:

PHASE 1: (Currently operating) In phase 1, high school students visit elementary classrooms on a regular basis and simply read to the students. Our belief is that if high school students model behavior that indicates that reading is "cool" then our elementary students will follow this example and buy into this belief. Elementary students are greatly influenced by high school role models. The high school students also work on reading comprehension skills.

PHASE 2: The implementation date for Phase 2 is yet to be determined and hinges on fundraising. Phase 2 will target all Washington County youth, from ages birth to five years old. These children can enroll voluntarily to receive an age-appropriate book, once per month, that will be mailed to their home. If a child enrolls at birth, he/she will have a personal library of 60 books by kindergarten.

The 2012-2013 Washington County Youth Foundation members are:

As Aaron Johnson, 2010-2011 Vice President of the Washington County Youth Foundation, puts it, "We can't make a difference overnight, but we can make a difference over time. If we can get more of our third graders reading at grade level, then more of the youth in Washington County will grow up to 'Live Happily Ever After'".

Additionally, the Washington County Youth Foundation participated in the following community service activities: YPII Conference, the Taste of Salem, Minis for Pennies, the Women's Giving Circle Tea, the Washington County Community Foundation Annual Meeting, Clean up at the Community Learning Center, and the Christmas Assistance program.

"Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever."

Ghandi

Life-long learning..... not a new idea but definitely a valuable one. Imagine the difference in our community if we all committed to a lifestyle of lifelong learning. The first step is the post-secondary educational attainment. Thanks goodness we have had so many donors step forward to help our citizens start down the path to lifelong learning.

“The most pathetic person in the world is someone who has sight, but has no vision.”

Helen Keller

When you get right down to it, our Foundation is all about people who had a vision. They saw a need and they chose to address it by creating a fund with us. They saw a better future for our community and did something about it. All of these gifts, big and small, are making a difference in our community.

Read on to learn more about our local visionaries.

Albert and Manda Huff Memorial Scholarship Fund

Albert and Manda (Hamblin) Huff were both born in 1904 into humble beginnings in the Cumberland Mountains of the Eastern Kentucky Appalachians. Each of them was only able to attend school up to the third grade. They married at age 16. The Huffs moved their family to a 60-acre farm just south of Salem in 1947. Albert worked for the railroad for 26 years and Manda managed the farm during the week and also worked at the canning factory in Austin.

Albert enjoyed carpentry, wood crafting and singing Appalachian Folk songs. Manda enjoyed gardening, making candy and playing the organ that Albert bought for her. Because of their background, both valued formal education and hard work very much. Through example, they instilled these values into their children. They were determined that their children attend college.

Their children thought it appropriate to honor their parents and their values by creating a scholarship fund to help young people in Washington County further their education.

Amzel and Knofel Fortner

Knofel began his career in education in 1937. Over the years, he taught bookkeeping, mathematics, and was a very successful basketball coach. He served as principal of Campbellburg High School and as Superintendent of the West Washington School Corporation for 21 years, retiring in 1980. During his tenure as Superintendent, he supervised the reorganization of 10 elementary schools and two high schools into the current structure of one elementary school and one Jr/Sr High School.

Amzel received her bachelor’s degree and master’s degree in education from Indiana University. She taught school, mostly fifth grade, for 38 years, retiring in 1980. She was a member of the First Baptist Church, Indiana State Teacher’s Association, Delta Kappa Gamma, Phi Beta Psi, and the Order of Eastern Star.

Amzel and Knofel dedicated their lives to educating our youth. They spent countless hours preparing our students for their future roles as citizens. Now, through the Amzel and Knofel Fortner Fund, they can continue this very important work, by providing graduating seniors from West Washington scholarships to pursue their college education. What an incredible way for educators to continue their mission in life!

Anne Terrell Delta Kappa Gamma Scholarship Fund

In celebration of her birthday, Anne’s husband, Butch, established this fund in honor of Anne’s many years of serving as a teacher and middle school administrator. Since Anne is an active member of Delta Kappa Gamma, she wanted the college scholarship to be awarded in conjunction with this organization.

Audrey Mounts Scholarship Fund

Audrey Mounts grew up in the New Philadelphia area of Washington County. She was an only child who lost her father at an early age. She had to work part-time while attending Indiana University and sent money home to help her mother. She retired from the West Washington School Corporation where she taught English. She was an avid gardener, collector and historian. She volunteered at the Stevens Museum and was a member of the Historical Society. She loved to work in her flower garden and she collected glassware, china, antiques, and she saved many cards and pictures that she received from former students. This fund was established to help students attend college. Audrey’s dream was to help others attend college, so that they would not have to struggle the way that she did. She also hoped to teach others to give back to their community.

Awareness Washington County Fund

This fund, established by Burl and Carmelita Jean in 1994, will help to support the on-going operating costs of Awareness Washington County. Awareness Washington County, in existence since 1983, is a nationally recognized leadership training program dedicated to strengthening and transforming Washington County by developing servant leaders. Awareness Washington County offers classes on an annual basis to anyone interested in enhancing their leadership skills and working towards the betterment of Washington County.

Awareness Washington County Class of 2002 Fund

This fund is the class project for the AWC Class of 2002. Their goal is to make a lasting difference in our community. As a result, they decided to establish a scholarship fund with the Washington County Community Foundation, to provide scholarships to college-bound individuals who have demonstrated involvement in their community through community service.

Bailey Hamilton Salem Football Alumni Association Scholarship Fund

Without a doubt, Bailey Hamilton is someone whom everyone can look up to. His smile and positive attitude have remained even when life has thrown him many obstacles. Bailey's school career has been much more challenging than many of his peers. In his very first year of school at Bradie Shrum Elementary, Bailey was diagnosed with Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy (DMD). While his diagnosis would bring him extra challenges to face each day, he has faced them with courage and strength that has inspired many. He has gained the respect of many through his humble and independent spirit. Because of this, the Salem Football Alumni Association established this scholarship in Bailey's honor.

Barbara (Welcher) Custer Memorial Fund

John Custer established this fund in honor of his wife Barbara Welcher Custer. The proceeds are to go to the Girl Scouts and to Salem High School Band.

Betty Motsinger Touch Tomorrow Fund

Betty established this fund so that she could continue her support of Washington County, forever.

Big Brothers Big Sisters

This fund was established, with the assistance of a matching challenge grant, to support their important work, youth mentoring, for generations to come.

Billy Stonecipher Scholarship Fund

Billy was born in 1919 and grew up in Salem. He graduated from Salem High School and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in mathematics and science from Butler University. He earned a Master of Science degree from Indiana University and also earned 66 hours of credit beyond the Master's level from Butler, Indiana and Purdue universities.

He was an army veteran, having served four years in WWII in both the European and Pacific theaters. He worked in the Indianapolis public school system for 22 years. In 1971, he became the superintendent for Salem Schools. He served in that position for four years, until his death.

Not many people come full circle in their lives, as Billy did. Rising to superintendent of the school system that provided him his education for the first twelve years is an unusual, outstanding accomplishment. Helping to build a new educational facility is a once in a lifetime event. Being honored with a scholarship fund, which will provide a Salem graduating senior with money for college every year, forever, is a legacy that will never die. Not bad for a "kid from Salem."

Blue River Friends Church & Cemetery Fund

Friends of the church have funded this endowment in order to maintain the current Quaker Church and its cemetery.

Blue River Services, Inc. Fund

This fund was established to further the mission of Blue River Services, Inc., which has many social service programs in Southern Indiana.

This fund was established in 2004 by the Board of Directors. It is to remain an acorn fund for 100 years and, as future board members continue to add to it, this fund will grow into a very sizeable fund by 2104, at which time it will be used for discretionary grants.

Bob Holler Scholarship Fund

This fund was started by Community First Bank to honor Bob Holler as he retired from their Board of Directors. The issued funds will provide scholarships for Salem High School and West Washington High School seniors that are of sound moral character and possess a strong record of community service.

Burl & Carmelita Jean Touch Tomorrow Fund

Burl and Carmelita established this fund in 2001. Both Burl and Carmelita have been actively involved in the Foundation. Carmelita is one of the Foundation's founding board members and Burl served on the Foundation's Board of Directors from 1993 to 2002. They wanted to establish a fund that would be flexible in meeting the needs of our community, both now and in the future, so they started this unrestricted fund which will issue grants for a variety of projects on an annual basis.

Canton United Methodist Church Fund

Upon her death, her family and friend's started this fund in her memory, so that her dedication to our community could go on forever.

Cavetown Church & Cemetery Fund

This fund was created through the efforts of Don Green and Mary Nicholson of Campbellburg to perpetuate the maintenance of the church and cemetery.

Charles and Ada Williams Memorial Scholarship Fund

In 1916, Charles and Ada Williams bought a farm in the southern portion of Washington County. The couple had three daughters: Harriet, Wilma and Margaret. They instilled in them the desire to work hard and learn as much as they could in life.

In 1986, Harriet and her husband, Stephen, formed the Charles and Ada Williams Memorial Scholarship Fund, Inc. The purpose of the fund was to memorialize the contribution of Charles R. Williams and Ada C. Williams to the development and improvement of Washington County, Indiana, through their work and contributions in kind to the Washington County Soil and Water Conservation District, the West Washington School Corporation, and community facilities of Howard Township.

Harriet died in 1998 in Honolulu County, Hawaii and her husband in 2008. After his death, the residence on the farm and all the land was eventually sold with all the money going to the scholarship fund. The West Washington School Board decided to give the money to the Washington County Community Foundation to continue the Williams Scholarship Fund.

Charlotte Martin Memorial Fund

Charlotte Pruitt Martin was born in 1943 in Jeffersonville, Indiana. While Charlotte was a small child, the Pruitts moved to Borden, where Charlotte grew up and graduated from high school. Her musical talents led her to sing in local churches, on her own radio show, and even at the Grand Ole Opry at the age of 17. It was at the Opry that a young man borrowed and accidentally scratched her new guitar. Later, the young man became the legendary country music singer Conway Twitty.

Charlotte treasured her involvement with her three children and teaching them her values. She also loved horses. She actively participated in her children's lives until she was no longer physically able, following her diagnosis of breast cancer in 1979. Although the doctors predicted she would live two years, she fought the disease for six years. Her family established this fund to honor her and her fight against cancer and to help other people who are fighting cancer. The specific purpose of the fund is to help provide transportation for medical appointments.

City of Salem Charitable Fund

The City of Salem employees support this fund through payroll deduction. Their assistance helps families in need pay a utility bill when times are tight. This assistance is not continuous; rather it is intended to help families bridge a gap that occasionally arises. And it is working, one family at a time.

Clark-Grosvenor Parent Touch Tomorrow Fund

Bruce and Linda Grosvenor moved to Salem/Washington County in 1990. Bruce worked in local industry and Linda worked for the school corporation. Both have retired and wanted to establish a fund in honor of their parents – Charles and Thelma Clark, and Bruce and Juliette Grosvenor, Sr. This Touch Tomorrow Fund was established in 2007 to help support the many worthwhile projects the Washington County Community Foundation makes possible. Bruce has served on the Board of Directors of the Foundation since 2002.

"Colie" Claus Christmas Assistance Fund

This fund is supported by John Jones GM City employees through a payroll deduction program. Throughout the year, the employees give a little at a time, and by the end of the year, they have donated enough to help needy children in Washington County at Christmas. Many years, they adopt 100 or more children and shop for items such as coats, hats, shoes, and items of clothing.

Community Learning Center Fund

Beth Sluys, Victor and Mary Dufour, Jim and Judy Johnson, David and Carolyn Beck, Jack and Carol Mahuron, Tom and Kim Scifres and Bob and Carol Strange established this fund. The purpose is to provide grants for operational expenses of the Community Learning Center.

Crusade for Children Fund

This fund was established by John Jones in memory of Joe Huber. It will support the work of the Crusade for generations to come.

D. Jack Mahuron Education Fund

This fund was established by the Washington County Community Foundation Board of Directors in 2001 in honor of the first Executive Director of the Foundation, Jack Mahuron. Jack worked as the Executive Director of the Foundation from 1993-2001 on a volunteer basis. Upon his retirement as Executive Director, this fund was established in his honor. The purpose of the fund is to provide small grants to classroom teachers in all three county school corporations for innovative classroom projects.

D. Jack and Carol Baker Mahuron Fund

This fund is to continue their giving to the First Christian Church and to the Washington County Historical Society.

David D. Wells Scholarship Fund

The family of David D. Wells established this fund to commemorate David and his service to our country. Scholarship applicants must be the child, grandchild, niece or nephew of a person, living or deceased, that has served in the United States Armed Forces. Applicants are required to submit an essay describing the service of that family member and also what the Armed Forces means to the applicant.

Daniel Main Fund for Youth in Arts

To honor Daniel Main and his years and talent of directing youth plays in Washington County, Kim Scifres started this fund to provide support to organizations in Washington County that provide opportunities for youth to participate in artistic endeavors. Many of Daniel’s former actors and their parents also chose to honor Daniel by contributing to this fund.

David Beck Fund

David Beck, first president of the Washington County Community Foundation and founding board member, established this fund in 2001. Through his many years of dedicated service to the Foundation, David realized the importance of giving unrestricted money to the foundation, because this type of gift allows flexibility for the Board of Directors to meet the ever-changing needs of Washington County.

Dr. Eddie Apple Family Community Youth Development Fund

Dr. Eddie Apple’s friends established this field of interest fund to support youth development in the community. Grants from this fund will be used to support youth development in Washington County.

Donivan Jack and Carol Baker Mahuron IUS Scholarship Fund

This fund was established to award a scholarship to a Washington County high school graduate attending Indiana University Southeast.

Edmund and Mary Drabek Scholarship Fund

Mary Drabek established the scholarship fund after the death of her beloved husband, Edmund. Edmund’s adage to his family was always “I can’t doesn’t live here, but I can if I try does!” This adage followed Edmund from the poor farming family in Richmond, Texas to his first Army station in Fort Knox, Kentucky where he met Mary. The two married soon after they met and began raising a family. After a few years of saving, Edmund and Mary bought an 80-acre farm in Greenville, Indiana. After five years of farming in Greenville, Edmund decided it was time to take on a bigger farm. They found the perfect 300-acre farm in Washington County and still continued with their outside jobs. Edmund and Mary always encouraged their children to excel at school and at least one of them attended the school events. The kids were never allowed to give up without trying. Edmund and Mary’s teachings of their own children, love of Washington County, and the wish to see more Washington County youth succeed is the basis of the Edmund and Mary Drabek Scholarship Fund for Washington County youth who are pursuing their education in mathematics and science. Hopefully with some help: I CAN IF I TRY will be a motto for more youth of Washington County.

Exchange Club of Salem Fund

David and Carolyn Beck originally funded this account. The Exchange Club is continuing to contribute to this fund. The income will be used in the future to fund the Exchange Club’s scholarship program.

First Baptist Church - Salem Fund

The First Baptist Church Fund was established by Robert and Mary Margaret Arnold. David and Anita Arney have also contributed to this fund. This account was initiated as a permanent fund that others can add to and the proceeds are to be used as the church deems appropriate.

First Christian Church - Salem Fund

This fund was established by the First Christian Church trustees and Donald L. and Virginia Martin to be used as the church board deems appropriate. Robert and Clarice Morris also added to this fund.

First Harrison Bank Touch Tomorrow Fund

In a spirit of community, the First Harrison Bank established this unrestricted fund, in order to contribute to our county now and forever.

First Youth First Youth Development Fund

The Advisory Council of Youth First has established many goals, one of which is sustainability for the organization. To that end, they decided to establish this fund, hopefully the first of many, and lay the groundwork for others to follow.

Friends of Beck's Mill

Larry Nelson established this fund after a literal "luck of the draw". Nelson won $1,000.00 at the WCCF annual meeting and decided the money would be best served by establishing a fund to provide support to the Friends of Becks Mill.

Garland A. & Norma Sue White Touch Tomorrow Fund

Garland and Norma Sue's initial gift to this fund was made in memory of their parents, Russell H. White, Sr., Mildred (Trinkel) White, Harold E. Peters and Esther (Zahnd) Peters. The establishment of this fund is a natural extension of their civic-minded generosity.

Gene & Judy Hedrick Touch Tomorrow Fund

Desiring to improve the quality of life in Washington County, Gene and Judy Hedrick established this fund in 2003. Through this fund, they will be able to give back to Washington County for time without end.

Glen and Madge Day Ag Scholarship Fund

Jim and Marilyn Day established this fund in 2011 to memorialize Jim's parents.

Glenn Armstrong Touch Tomorrow Fund

Glenn was born on March 14, 1912 to Stephen and Ada (Sherwood) Armstrong. His mother succumbed to Tuberculosis when Glenn was six months old. Shortly after her death, Glenn's grandmother, Amanda Sherwood, assumed responsibility for his care and raised him.

At age 33, Glenn went into the family business, Armstrong Hardware, which was opened by Steve Armstrong, Glenn's father, in 1914. In 1989, after 75 years of family ownership, Glenn and his wife, Bernice, sold the hardware store. "I hadn't planned seriously to retire although at my age I thought it was time for retirement" stated a 77 year-old Glenn. "It's been a very pleasant experience. If it hadn't been for the customers, we wouldn't have lasted that long."

This unrestricted fund will support numerous worthwhile community projects. Glenn's wish to give back to the community will come true, year after year, forever.

Goldie Taylor Nally Memorial Fund

Goldie Taylor Nally was born in Higginson, Arkansas on January 21, 1906 to John and Minnie Lee Taylor. Her father was Justice of the Peace and a constable and her mother was a homemaker. Goldie was able to attend school until the eighth grade, where she developed a love for reading. She married Henry Hiram Nally when she was sixteen years old. Together, they had three children: James, who died in infancy, Mildred and Hiram.

Goldie's husband died in 1942 from kidney disease. After his death, she worked at a local cafeteria as a cashier to support the family.

Goldie lived to be 92. At the time of her death she had three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. She never wavered in her love of children. In 1998 her family established the Goldie Taylor Nally fund. This is a designated fund that grants to the "Shop with a Cop" Program. "I thought it would be appropriate to set up this fund in Mom's memory," stated her son. "Now at least one child will be clothed and taken care of each Christmas in her memory. I think she would have been very pleased."

Happily Ever After Project Fund

This fund was established by Rachel Dalton and Aaron Johnson in 2010, when they were serving as President and Vice President of the Washington County Youth Foundation. The goals of this fund are to increase awareness of the importance of early literacy; develop a love of reading in every child's life; and help build reading comprehension skills. The Washington County Youth Foundation believes that if we can get more of our third graders reading at grade level, then more of our children will grow up to live "Happily Ever After."

Helen Gill Scholarship Fund

Helen was born at home on April 10, 1911 to Dora and Winfield McCoskey. When Helen started school, her method of transportation was simple: she walked. Depending upon the time in her life, this could be as little as 1/2 mile or could entail walking "through fields on the neighbor's farm, cross a creek by means of a foot log, and climb the hill to the school." However, these trips evolved into a lifelong love of education. Helen started high school in the autumn of 1924. The previous spring, she had attended the high school play and operetta and fell in love with "the handsome young man who had the leading role in the program." She told one of her friends that she was going to marry that boy. His name was John Parnell "Bob" Gill. Eventually, Bob and Helen were married on February 15, 1939. "Everything worked out fine and we were happy." Bob and Helen had two daughters, Cheryl Lynn and Jean Elaine. Helen taught school for many, many years. She also traveled internationally for Sweet Adeline Competitions. Helen could play the piano, clarinet, guitar and accordion. She played the organ for many years at St. Patrick Church. This scholarship fund, established in Helen's memory, will provide scholarships to graduating seniors from Salem and East Washington High Schools.

Helsel Family Salem Presbyterian Church Fund

Barbara and Jess Helsel started this fund in 2007. The purpose of this fund is to provide support to the Salem Presbyterian Church for capital improvement projects.

Henderson Park Fund

This fund was established by the Salem Common City Council with proceeds from the purchase of permanent rights to Henderson Park by the Nature Conservancy. The income will be used each year by the Salem Water Department for their operation and equipment purchases.

Hicksite Church & Cemetery Fund

Quaker Friends have funded this endowment in order to maintain the Old Quaker Church and its cemetery. This church is one of the oldest churches in the State of Indiana.

Holler/Myers Fund

Bob and Evelyn Holler established this fund to provide financial support for maintenance expenses for Lawrenceport Cemetery Association, Saltillo Cemetery and the Blue River Friends Cemetery.

Hometown Heroes Scholarship Fund

JD and Lindsey Wade-Swift established the Hometown Heroes Scholarship Fund in February, 2010. "The men and women in the military give so much to each and every one of us that we wanted to do something for them. We realize that a scholarship fund can't even begin to touch what they fight and protect for us on a daily basis, but it may be of small assistance. This fund means a small thank you to our service men and women."

Hoosier Uplands Fund

This is an agency endowment fund established by the Board of Directors of Hoosier Uplands. Earnings from this fund will be granted to Hoosier Uplands to provide support to Hospice, Headstart and Hoosier Uplands Housing Services.

Howard and Juanita (Myers) Hinkle Scholarship Fund

Max and Phyllis Hinkle established this fund in honor of Max's father and stepmother. The purpose of the fund is to provide vocational scholarships to Washington County high school students. This scholarship is to be rotated between the three county high schools.

A life-long resident of Washington County, Howard was born on February 9, 1914 to Earl and Emma Hinkle. He graduated in 1933 from Salem High School. After graduation, Howard started to work as a mechanic for Simpson Brothers Construction Company. "I started to work on automobiles when I was twelve years old," Howard once stated. "It was all I ever knew." By 1946, Howard was the owner of an Oldsmobile dealership, Salem Motors Company. He retired at age 68, after 48 years in the car business. "We sold quite a few automobiles in my lifetime. We could repair anything from the front bumper to the back; from the top to the bottom. I always said, 'If human hands made it, then human hands can fix it.'"

Independent Order of Odd Fellows Lodge #67 Fund

As it became apparent to local members of the IOOF #67 that their numbers were dwindling and their ability to remain a viable organization was becoming nearly impossible, the members decided that they wanted the local assets, which they had accrued over the past several decades, to stay in Washington County. So, after much time and effort, the local Lodge received permission to keep the funds local, by contributing them to the Washington County Community Foundation. The lodge established a fund in the Foundation to benefit the John Hay Center Foundation. This way, the IOOF Lodge #67 can continue their work of supporting our community long after the members are gone.

Jinny Scifres Scholarship Fund

Paul and Tom Scifres, Dr. Ed Apple and Jinny's many friends established this fund. This fund will provide scholarships to individuals pursuing post-secondary education in the field of nursing.

Jinny was born on August 17, 1942 in Salem to Tom and Louise (Evans) Tiedt. After starting a family, Jinny made the tough decision to return to school and study nursing. After graduation, Jinny began her nursing career at Washington County Memorial Hospital as an Emergency Room Nurse. Jinny's love of nursing eventually lead her to several promotions and back to school once again. She eventually became the Director of Patient Care Services.

Jinny died in the fall of 2000, after bravely battling bone cancer. Her family and many friends established this scholarship fund in her memory, to assist others who, like Jinny, return to school to study nursing after starting a family or career. Jinny once stated, "My vocation in nursing has been rewarding. I appreciate the opportunity to help others in many ways. With God's help, I can make a difference and that is what I try to do."

"None of us is as good as all of us."

John M. Colglazier Touch Tomorrow Fund

In 2009, the former employees of the State Bank of Salem held a reunion. At this reunion, they decided to collect money to honor former bank President, John Colglazier. "He had such compassion for each person he dealt with, whether it was a customer or an employee of the bank," remembered Jeanette Nolan. "I think it would be safe to say that we all learned a lot of valuable lessons from John during our different tenures at the bank."

John and Ginger Morris Touch Tomorrow Fund

John and Ginger have been active in our community for many years. Ginger was a founding board member for the Washington County Community Foundation and retired from the board in 2002, after 10 years of service. They wanted to continue the good work of the Foundation and support the many worthwhile projects yet to come, so they established this unrestricted fund with the Foundation in 2002.

John is a successful businessman and is active in the community. Paula is also very active in the community and her church. They are both interested in making Washington County a better place for future generations. Like many donors to the foundation, John and Paula wanted their gift to benefit as many individuals as possible. After careful consideration, they decided to make their gift unrestricted. By doing so, their fund will be flexible to meet the ever changing needs of Washington County, forever.

John E. Elliott Scholarship Fund

He influenced the lives of numerous students during his 28 years of teaching and his sponsorship of exchange students from various places around the world through Rotary International. John was born in Washington County in 1936. He attended Canton Grade School and graduated from Salem High School. He married Sharon Cauble in 1956. Because of his value of education, he strongly influenced his own four children to complete college degrees. He enjoyed such hobbies as drafting, metalworking, carpentry, and woodworking. In 1972, with the help of family members, he designed and built a house that straddles a creek. He lived there until his death. By starting a scholarship fund in 1999 honoring his father, Brent Elliott felt he was also honoring his father's beliefs and values. Other members of the family have also contributed to this scholarship fund to honor John E. Elliott.

September 20, 1914 in Clinton, Indiana after his parents had recently emigrated from Northern Italy. Joanna was born on March 28, 1920 in Bowling Green, Kentucky, where her family had lived for generations. Joseph and Joanna met at Western Kentucky University. Joanna completed college in three years so that she could graduate with Joseph in 1939. Joseph and Joanna had five children: Joseph Anton, Victoria, James Bradford (Brad), Susannah, and Sarah.

Joseph died unexpectedly at the age of 54. Both Joseph and Joanna dedicated their lives to their children and to education. In 1962, Joseph became the first principal of the newly consolidated West Washington High School and Joanna taught English. Through their actions, Joseph and Joanna taught their children the valuable lesson of giving to others. In 2002, their children used those many lessons taught and established this fund in honor of their parents, thereby creating a permanent legacy to Joseph and Joanna.

Josh Kearschner Memorial Fund

It was in the little things that Josh will be remembered. His smile. His hugs. The way he loved to play the piano. His love for his church and his religious convictions. The time he drove an hour to deliver a birthday card and chocolate chip cookies. Josh did simple acts of kindness all the time. He was also a gifted musician. He composed and recorded several original instrumental songs, which were made into a tape and CD. Anyone who listens to his music can feel his depth and tenderness and can imagine a heart full of love for others. After his death, Josh's many, many friends worked together to establish a fund in Josh's memory. This fund will benefit missionaries from Josh's church, the Church of the Latter Day Saints.

Judy Edwards Barnett Scholarship Fund

Sam Barnett established the Judy Edwards Barnett Scholarship fund in honor of Judy in February, 2010. He wanted to create a lasting legacy for Judy and memorialize her love of teaching by creating a fund that will help young people pursue a college degree.

JP "Bob" Gill Fund for the Poor and Needy

JP "Bob" Gill was born on August 31, 1906 to Edith (Carnes) and James Gill. Although born on a farm, Bob's family moved to town when he was a child, so he knew little of the farm life. Bob's nickname came from his sister, who stated that when he was little he looked like a "Bob" in the water. The nickname stayed with him his entire life.

Bob's first teaching assignment was at a one-room school in Old Pekin. Among other innovative ideas, he developed a football team and a school lunch program, allowing the eighth grade girls to cook soup for the other students. From there, Bob moved on to Mitchell High School, where he taught bookkeeping and then returned to New Albany Commercial College. He taught there part time, coached the basketball team and worked part time in a law office. He was admitted to the bar on June 6, 1928. He then moved to Chicago. There he worked for Marshall-Field and Company, which was one of the nation's largest department stores. Bob married Helen McCoskey on February 15, 1939. Bob was also an inventor and enjoyed experimenting with innovative ideas. He was one of the first hog farmers to use electric heat lamps at farrowing time and then studied whether this was economically feasible. He also designed special feeders and feed mixes and was featured in several national farm magazines. He was an accountant, lawyer, and a farmer. He could use surveying equipment, he could fix anything and he was an avid ham radio operator. At the time of his death, Bob made provisions for his favorite charities. Because of this, the Washington County Community Foundation now holds the following funds: The Washington County Food Bank Fund, The JP "Bob" Gill Fund for the Poor and Needy, (to provide support to a local chapter or council of the St. Vincent DePaul Society, and to St. John's Center, Inc.) and the St. Patrick Church Cemetery Fund.

Kays Chapel Community Church Scholarship Fund

Upon the closure of this church, the trustees took the proceeds from the sale of the property and created this scholarship fund for West Washington graduating seniors.

Kenneth "Colie" Coliapolis Memorial, Urban Beautification Fund

Colie's many friends and neighbors instituted this memorial fund for him. He was very much interested in beautiful lawns and flowers; therefore, the proceeds are to be used by the Urban Beautification Committee of Salem.

"If you can dream it, you can do it."

Kenneth W. Collins Scholarship Fund

Kenneth William Collins was a friend and teacher to all students who walked the halls of Eastern High School. Ken was born in Fressingfield, England on May 1, 1945. He was the only child of Brenda Elizabeth and William Collins. Ken graduated from Manual High School in 1963. He graduated from Purdue University in 1968 and accepted his first teaching position at Pendleton Heights High School in Pendleton, Indiana.

Ken spent his life educating our youth. He spent countless hours preparing our students to be better citizens and to have a good work ethic. And now through the Kenneth W. Collins Scholarship Fund he can continue this important work.

Kevin Johnson Touch Tomorrow Fund

Kevin Johnson named the Washington County Community Foundation as beneficiary of his life insurance policy. This gift will be used for generations to come for the betterment of Washington County.

LJ Fultz/Russell Trueblood Touch Tomorrow Fund

This fund is named in honor of two men who served as President of the Board of Directors of the Lee John Fultz School, a school for special needs children located on Harrison Street. Originally called the Hopewell School, this institution provided educational services for up to 25-30 special needs children every school year. It operated from 1954-1991. Both of these men were instrumental in building a savings account to support the operation of the school. After the school closed, the fund lay dormant for 10 years, upon which time, the trustees decided to place the money with the Washington County Community Foundation in honor of LJ Fultz and Russell Trueblood. This is an unrestricted fund that will be flexible to meet the varying needs of Washington County.

Larry Medlock Red Oak Fund

Larry Medlock, Board member from 1993-2002, established this fund to provide educational support and life enrichment to individuals with Type 1 Diabetes.

Larry Stephenson Scholarship Fund

Larry taught biology at Salem High School for four years. Teaching was a second career for him. Perhaps that is why he enjoyed it so much. He often said, "It's great to be at Salem High School. I am so glad that I didn't have to go to work today. I get to go to school!" Larry's enthusiasm spilled over into the classroom. He didn't measure his success in his work. He measured his success in the improvement he saw in each individual child, whether that was in the classroom or on the basketball court, where Larry loved to coach. He frequently received notes from his students with positive comments about his teaching style or a project in the lab. Those notes thrilled Larry. He often shared them with his co-workers, sometime close to tears when a student had particularly kind words for him.

Shortly before his death, Larry indicated that he would appreciate memorial gifts to establish a scholarship fund in his memory, and that is exactly what many of his friends, former students and family did. Although Larry's presence will be deeply missed in the classrooms at Salem High School, his memory and love of teaching and working with youth will live on forever, through the Larry Stephenson Scholarship.

Larry and Rita Turpen Scholarship Fund

The Larry and Rita Turpen Scholarship fund was established by Rita and her family in 2008. In honor of Larry and Rita's devotion to academics and athletics, this fund represents their continued contribution and impact on our county's youth. Designated for a Salem High School graduate, this scholarship is to be presented to a student athlete pursuing a degree in education.

The Legacy Council Touch Tomorrow Fund

David Beck established this fund upon his retirement from the Board of Directors of the Foundation in 2002. The Legacy Council is a group of individuals who have served on the Board of Directors and wish to remain active with the Foundation in a volunteer capacity.

Members of the Legacy Council are encouraged to add to this fund on an annual basis.

Lois Marshall Greene Literacy Fund

Few people can say they have devoted their entire working life to one business or corporation. However, Lois Marshall Greene is one of those who can. Lois devoted her life to serving students as a librarian in the West Clark Community School Corporation. She served Borden Elementary, Junior High, and High School as the schools' only librarian for 33 years. A person who loves reading, Lois has a passion for helping students learn to read. Because of her desire to enable young minds, she began the Lois Marshall Greene Literacy Fund in the Washington County Community Foundation in 2011. Thanks to her generosity, her fund will be assisting children for years to come.

Lois W Price Scholarship Fund

Lois was a fifty-year member of the Order of Eastern Star and she was an active member of the Northside Christian Church in Indianapolis. She was very proud of her adopted city, Indianapolis, but also kept a special place in her heart for Salem. She loved to attend the Salem High School Alumni Banquet. Upon her passing, this scholarship fund was established by her nephew. The message from Lois: "Find a goal and never lose sight of it. Finding that goal could take ten years, but once you find it, go after it."

Marjorie Ann Martin Souder Fund

MarjiAnn was born on October 5, 1934 in Pekin to William O. and Elizabeth Hartung-Hoyt Martin. She was born to a family of educators and gladly accepted the calling to teach after graduating high school.

MarjiAnn was a history buff from the start. She received the DAR Good Citizen's Award in high school (an award she would later bestow on many other students in the county.) At the time, she had no idea what the award was about, but after researching the organization, she quickly learned that the DAR was closely aligned with several of her core values. She became very active in the DAR. She served as state regent from 1994-1997 and NSDAR Vice President General from 1997-2000

This fund will honor the outstanding history student at Eastern High School. Through this fund, MarjiAnn's love of history will live on through the students that receive the award, and so will a little bit of MarjiAnn.

Marvin and Sandy Clark Touch Tomorrow Fund

Marvin and Sandy Clark established this fund in 2002, in support of the Foundation and the many grants that are distributed on an annual basis. In the spirit of giving back to the community, Marvin and Sandy's fund will issue grants to worthwhile community projects, as determined by the current Board of Directors. Since this is an endowed fund, it will continue to give, forever.

Mary Hilton Youth Development Fund

Because Mary Hilton was a beloved teacher, mentor, and friend to all students whose lives she touched just by being herself, the Pekin High School Class of 1958 has established a Youth Development Fund in Mary's honor. This fund will be Mary's legacy and continue her mission in life.... Helping young people to realize their potential.

Mary H. Payne - Salem Community Schools Fund

This fund was established by bequest to present scholarships to Salem High School students.

"Don't worry when you are not recognized, but strive to be worthy of recognition."

Abraham Lincoln

Mary Frances Nicholson Fund

Mary Frances Nicholson was a life-long resident of Washington County and was involved in many different organizations. One of those organizations was Blue River Services, of which Mary was on the Board of Directors. To honor Mary and her love of Washington County and helping others, Blue River Services established this fund in her name.

Mary Ruby Fleenor Fund

Mary Ruby Fleenor was a lifelong resident of Washington County. She was born on December 17, 1911 to Levi and Clara Isabelle (Belle) Knoy. Levi and Belle owned and operated a farm in Washington County near Beck's Mill. Ruby was the next to youngest child in a very large family. She had seven siblings, Gilbert, Frank, Elbert, Walt, Edith, Myrtle, and Bethel. Ruby and her brothers and sisters helped out on the farm and attended school. However, like many other young ladies living in a rural area in the early 1900s, Ruby was only able to attend school through eighth grade.

Showing her generous spirit, Ruby made the decision before her death to leave a large portion of her estate to the Salem Community Schools in honor of her late husband and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fleenor. The Mary Ruby Fleenor Fund through the Washington County Community Foundation will provide the school with money to help with purchasing educational materials and library books or helping to fund scholarships or the payment of teacher aids. Thanks to her generosity, the Mary Ruby Fleenor Fund will benefit students in the Salem School Corporation, FOREVER.

Maurice E. Berkey Jr. & Jean C. Berkey Memorial Scholarship Fund/First Christian Church

From 1942-1945, Mauri (as his friends called him) served in the Army. He served under General George Patton and received Commendations signed by General Patton and well as General Omar Bradley. In retirement, he lived with his sister, Jean, in Salem.

Jean's first job as a teacher was in the two room Canton School. Jean taught for 32 years and retired in the late 1960's. She then worked at the Salem Library for 15 years. She and her brother Mauri loved spending winters in Florida. Jean joined Delta Kappa Gamma International in 1949. She was the first president of Omicron Chapter from Washington County 1956-1958 and was a chapter member of Gamma Rho Chapter. She was also legislative chairperson as well as vice-president of Omicron.

Jean was a long time member of the Salem First Christian Church. She also belonged to Retired Teachers Association, Tri-Kappa, National Historical Society, and DAR, as well as being a charter member of PEO Chapter DB, she was president 1979-1980.

Max and Phyllis Hinkle Scholarship Fund

This fund was established in December, 2010 by Max and Phyllis Hinkle. The purpose is to provide a scholarship to a Salem High School graduate who plans to attend the School of Business at Indiana University.

Max said they started the fund for several reasons, but mainly because he felt the scholarship would be a good thing for Washington County and for a student who wanted to further their education at IU.

When asked how he wants future generations to remember him, Max said, "As a guy from Salem who went out into the business world and found some success and is now sharing that with a worthy student and the Washington County Community Foundation."

Paul Ogle/Edward Baugh Fund

Paul Ogle was born in Switzerland County, Indiana. He was the owner of Silgas, a liquefied gas company that sold to residents and businesses throughout Southern Indiana for over 40 years. When Paul died in 1988, the company was sold and the proceeds formed the Paul Ogle Foundation. Paul's vision was to assist the communities in which he made his fortune. To that end, the Paul Ogle Foundation made a $50,000.00 contribution to the Washington County Community Foundation to help establish this youth philanthropy fund. This fund will be used by the Washington County Youth Foundation to issue youth-directed community service grants to Washington County youth organizations and to teach the youth of Washington County about philanthropy.

Edward Baugh was born in East Chicago, Illinois. He and his family moved to Washington County in 1942, when they purchased a farm. He joined the army when he was seventeen years old and served his country overseas in China, Burma and Egypt. Edward learned many trades over his lifetime. He worked as a farmer, plumber, welder, machinist and tinsmith among other trades. He valued honesty and a strong work ethic. In 1996, Edward contributed $34,000.00 to establish a youth fund.

Rachel Spaulding Davis Touch Tomorrow Fund

Ralph & Faye Motsinger Mahuron Fund

Both Ralph and Faye (Motsinger) Mahuron were lifelong residents of Washington County. Ralph worked in many different jobs. Both Ralph and Faye worked in the Charlestown Powder Plant during World War II. Although they did not have children of their own, they did love children. Ralph also enjoyed politics and was the first Mayor of Salem to be re-elected. Ralph and Faye led a quiet, conservative lifestyle, but also were active in their community through the Masonic Lodge, the Order of Eastern Star, and their church. They were also interested in the history of Washington County. It was through their conservatism that the Mahurons were able to form a large estate. Through their generosity, the fund now benefits the three area high schools with scholarships, the St. Vincent Salem Hospital, Blue River Baptist Church, Salem Baptist Church, Olive Branch Church, Salem Masonic Lodge, Order of Eastern Star, the Senior Citizens Center, Blue River Cemetery, Olive Branch Cemetery, Rodman Cemetery, and the John Hay Center Foundation.

Ralph and Mae Decker Scholarship Fund

Four years after their marriage, Ralph and Mae moved to Louisville where Ralph worked at Porter's Paint Company for seven years. The Deckers bought a farm near Hardinsburg where they raised their two daughters. Ralph sold Moorman feed and was a good friend to all. After Ralph's retirement, he and Mae moved to Salem. Ralph was always interested in children getting a better education than he, as he was unable to go to college. Mae Decker and GleEtta Williams established this fund for Salem High School graduates in the form of scholarships, especially those in the fields of nursing, theology, missionary work or a healthcare related field.

Randy Johnson Scholarship Fund

Riley's Place Fund

Riley's Place Playground was built in September, 2001 in memory of Riley Jean Tomlinson. Riley, who died in an accident at the age of 17 months, was the beautiful son of Jennifer and Wade Tomlinson. After his death, his parents were overwhelmed with the kindness of friends and neighbors who wanted to do something in memory of Riley. Jennifer remembered a playground that she and Riley had once visited in Nashville, Tennessee, and the dream of Riley's Place began. Committees were set up and the work to plan the playground and raise the money began. Over 3,000 children in Washington County had an opportunity to turn in ideas for the design of the playground. The playground was completely constructed in 6 days. The first day of the build, September 11, 2001, was one of the darkest days in our nation's history. Building Riley's Place gave the community something positive to focus on when our country was in great despair and grief. In all, over 2,000 people put their skills to work to build the playground. The playground was dedicated on September 16, 2001. One white balloon, in memory of Riley, was released, along with 2001 red balloons, symbolizing all the children who will play on the playground.

degree in industrial arts and later a master's degree in vocational education from Indiana State University at Terre Haute. He taught at Jeffersonville High School for 28 years and retired in 1979.

Clarice also attended Indiana State University. She held local teaching positions as well as teaching in Terre Haute (while Robert attended college), New Albany and then finally transferring to Jeffersonville, where she taught until her retirement in 1979.

Robert and Clarice gave the Washington County Community Foundation its first "planned gift" in 1995, a Charitable Remainder Trust, which was funded by the sale of three pieces of property. Hence, the Morris Society is named after them.

Robert L. and Clarice J. Morris Touch Tomorrow Fund

This fund was established through Robert's estate to fund future needs of Washington County.

Ron and Pam Haendiges Youth Development Fund

Pam has been a teacher at Bradie Shrum for many years and Ron has been involved with youth in our community in many ways. In order to continue this tradition of supporting our youth, they have started this fund, which will support the youth in our community forever.

Ron and Deb Mays Touch Tomorrow Fund

Everyone who knew Ronnie, knew that smile. However, what might be even more memorable about him was the strength and the faith that he carried with him at all times. While many people who are diagnosed with a terminal disease allow it to rob them of their hope, Ronnie made the choice to fight. He made the choice to live each day to the fullest and to place his complete faith in God. Without a doubt, we all have a great deal we could learn from Ronnie.

Ronnie's time on this earth came to an end on February 21, 2012. However, his legacy did not. His smile, his love, and his desire to serve will not be forgotten. In honor of Ronnie, his wife Debbie established a Touch Tomorrow Fund with the Washington County Community Foundation, a fund that will keep his legacy alive for many years to come. She and all of his family want him to be able to leave a wonderful legacy behind. Thanks to their generosity, his Touch Tomorrow Fund will help to bring a smile to many faces in the future.

Roy and Mae Lee Family Fund

"Caught and not taught" usually means you learn values or behaviors from the people and organizations that practice them, rather than by being told. If you see someone consistently living out what they believe with power and great dignity--sometimes even in the face of difficulty--those are values that can be caught. A wonderful example right here in our own community was Roy and Mae Lee.

According to David Lee, "Mom and Dad were stewards. They took care of the church, even when at times they really couldn't afford to do so, and in their death they just wanted to carry on that giving." Prior to his death, Roy established a fund in the Washington County Community Foundation to benefit Sugar Creek Christian Church. Additionally, he made a provision in his estate plan to give a percentage of his entire estate to the Washington County Community Foundation to benefit five organizations.

"That was just consistent with the way they lived," affirmed Thelma Lee McDonald. "They contributed a lot to their church and their community. They have taken that responsibility on even in their death. They have set a precedent. This is a challenge for us to carry on."

Most of us want lives of significance. We admire others in whom we see strength, service to unselfish goals, transcendence over circumstances, and consistent integrity. If their example, if their modeling of those values, is powerful enough, their values can be caught. What kind of values will people "catch" from you?

St. Isidore the Farmer Catholic Church Fund

William Harlen established this fund in 2001. Grants from this fund will help St. Isidore the Farmer Catholic Church maintain the Old St. John Catholic Cemetery, where many of Mr. Harlen's ancestors are buried.

"It's kind of fun to do the impossible."

Smedley Scholarship Trust Fund

Lawrence "Corky" Smedley was born on March 28, 1928 in a house on West Market Street in Salem, Indiana. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a DeMolay sponsor. He loved to read and enjoyed the stage and musicals. He was a member of the First Christian Church. He had three children and two grandchildren at the time of his death in 1986. Corky will always be remembered for his love of horses, which started at an early age. As a young boy, he taught his pony to untie the ribbons in the hair of his younger sister. Thus started his long relationship with horses that would last the rest of his life. For Corky, there is an old saying that holds especially true: "There is nothing better for the inside of a man than the outside of a horse." Corky's friends, 4-H co-leaders, and loved ones, by establishing this scholarship fund, will help future generations of Washington County residents understand the meaning of that old saying.

agriculture to Washington County, and he very successfully farmed a large acreage of land north, northeast, and west of Salem.

Martha Smith Branaman was born in Salem, Indiana in 1910. She was the daughter of Ford A. Smith and Florence Blanche Munkelt Smith. Her father was the founder of Smith Cabinet Manufacturing Company. Martha graduated from Salem High School in 1928. She met Clarence Branaman while at Salem High School, and they married in December 1928. They had two children - David Branaman (1932) of Louisville, KY and the former President of Salem Child Craft Industries, Inc. and Martha Ann Branaman Gran (1937) of Indianapolis, IN. During the 1990s, Martha Branaman contributed the proceeds of the Baynes and Lyons farms that she and Clarence had owned to both the Washington County Community Foundation and the Christian Church Foundation. By placing the two Branaman farms in a charitable remainder trust, Martha ensured a continuing source of funding for charitable interests that she was able to specify. Additionally, the charitable remainder trust provided a source of personal income for Martha until her death in August 1997.

William O. Martin Math Prize Fund

William O. Martin was born in 1904 in Pierce Township. William passed a test as a senior that allowed him to begin teaching grades one through eight following one summer at college. He later continued his education and received a master's degree from Indiana University in 1949. His favorite subject was mathematics. During his 47 years of teaching, he also served as principal and coach at East Washington High School. As a coach, he never had a losing season and he introduced the school motto, "All for one and one for all." This eventually led the school to adopt the Musketeer as the mascot and royal purple and bright gold as the school colors.

William married Elizabeth Hoyt ten years after graduating high school. One of his accomplishments after retirement was to develop a popular blend of apple cider. He also helped get electricity and more updated phone lines into the eastern part of the county. William was also involved with the East Washington Lions Club, the John Hay Society Sons of the American Revolution, his church and the building fund committee for the Washington County Memorial Hospital. William O. Martin's children established this fund to honor their father and reward an Eastern High graduating senior who has excelled in mathematics.

"No idea is so outlandish that it should not be considered."

Winston Churchill

Have you ever heard of giving your money twice?

Sounds "outlandish," right? Well, here is how to do it!

The benefits of a Give it Twice Trust

If you are like many parents, you desire to give equally to your children with the belief that equality is more likely to lead to peace in the family. If you have multiple children, it is likely that some are more financially responsible than others. You could give a lump sum to each of your children, but are they ready for this responsibility? The benefit of a Give it Twice Trust is that you can transfer value to your children over a number of years through regularly scheduled payments. This plan allows you to treat your children equally by making them equal recipients of the trust income. Sometimes parents also give a lump sum gift to children in addition to the trust income. The benefit of the trust income paid out over a number of years is that your children have time to acquire the financial skills to save and invest their inheritance for the future.

Here is how the Give it Twice Trust works. A typical estate plan will transfer a portion of the estate outright to children. Then an IRA or other assets are transferred to fund a term of years charitable remainder unitrust. Since the unitrust is tax-exempt, no income tax is paid when the IRA is distributed to the trust. The full IRA value is invested and pays income to your children for up to 20 years. At the end of this time, the trust remainder is distributed to charity.

One of the best benefits of creating a Give it Twice Trust is the valuable tax savings from creating this plan. Not only does your estate enjoy a charitable deduction at the time your trust is funded, but income tax is also avoided on the transfer of your IRA or other retirement plans to the unitrust, which is tax-exempt. Please contact us if you would like to see an illustration of the benefits of a Give it Twice Trust plan for you and your family.

John and Jane worked with their professional advisor and developed the following estate plan:

Estate Value
$650,000.00

Family Receives
$337,000.00
Immediately

5.59% Unitrust
$300,000.00

Foundation
May Receive
Approx. $350,000
After 20 Years

Family Receives
$333,000.00
Over 20 Years

John and Jane are ecstatic with this plan. Upon their death, they can make an immediate gift to their children, give to their children for the next twenty years, and create a family legacy by making the Washington County Community Foundation the trust beneficiary. They met with the Foundation staff and established a fund to support their church and, since they are dedicated to youth, a fund to support Youth First.

Note: Larger estates may also realize significant tax savings. Trust payouts and ending values can vary depending on the type of trust established, and current economic conditions. For large or complicated gifts please be sure to consult your professional advisor.
